CONTRORA— RON GILAD 2014

3

Pieces characterized by very simple design but elegant in every detail, for this collection of sofas, armchairs and benches by Ron Gilad. Its name comes from an Italian word used to indicate the early hours of the afternoon, traditionally given over to rest. A simple wooden structure, in black oak or American walnut. Its original continuous overhanging headrests and armrests provide a natural housing for seating while creating a wonderfully cosy space. Structural feet in black chrome or shiny aluminium.

FEATURES

Pieces with essential but refined design in every detail: this is a collection of sofas, armchairs and benches designed by Ron Gilad. A simple frame in plywood veneered with wood, also with protruding shelves and tabletops, where the seating arrangement creates a natural and personal place to relax. The informal style of this sofa plays on contrasts: the elegant minimalism of the wood frame against the enveloping softness of the down cushions.
