

Ulrik stool and bar stool

Alex Hellum

As a development of Alex Hellum's Ulrik stool launched in 2009 this year SCP introduces the Ulrik barstool. Both stools display the same solid ash legs and seat with a beautifully executed joinery detail that allows the seat to be constructed from two separate parts. The stool's ergonomics have been adjusted to suit its elevated position. The seat of the bar stool lies horizontally allowing the user to sit more comfortably and the fold of the seat is positioned towards the back to form a backrest which doubles as a handle. These adjustments link the seat to the footrest at the front and give the stool both poise and direction. Made in the UK.
